ACOUSTIC OXYGEN WAVE

Oxygen is the most natural element found in nature and it is of fundamental importance for the functioning of the human body. In fact, this element is at the basis of all the metabolic functions and represents life for each single cell.

The greatest cutaneous beauty flaws are due to: lack of collagen and elastin, circulation problems, nutrition and genetics, but above all, lack of OXYGENATION.

THEREFORE...why oxygen?

- Because it nourishes cells, those damaged, regenerating the epidermal tissue
- It nourishes the connective tissue.
- It slows down the skin's aging process.
- It strengthens and firms skin.
- It reduces skin impurities.
- It reduces acne in its active phase.
- It nourishes and oxygenates the epidermis.
- It accelerates the healing processes.
- It contrasts the damages caused by pollution.
